Meet Franci Our Housing Client!

Franci's story begins with her health starting to fail and Franci becoming unable to keep up with the demands of both the inside and outside of the home she owns. As a result, a neighbor filed a complaint and France was cited in Court for Health Code violations. Without anyone to help her and living on a fixed income, Franci was not able to resolve these issues on her own. This meant Franci was in danger of being ordered to vacate her home.

Indy Legal Aid was able to help Franci after receiving a referral from the Health Department regarding Franci's case. In less than a year, Franci achieved compliance with the Health Code and is now able to stay in her home and focus on her health. According to Franci, "What started as a nightmare turned into a godsend with the help of Indy Legal Aid."

The Indiana Supreme Court heard about Franci's story and invited her to the 2019 State of the Judiciary where Chief Justice Rush recognized Franci in her remarks regarding the judiciary's commitment to closing the justice gap for people like Franci. "Today, Franci is in her home. Having a lawyer represent her made all the difference," said Indiana Supreme Court Chief Justice Loretta H. Rush.

How do I know if I need a lawyer?

If you have a problem of legal nature involving your rights or a dispute with another person which cannot be solved to your satisfaction, it is a good idea to ask for the advice of a lawyer.

What does a lawyer do?

A lawyer is a trained professional who helps you understand what the laws are and whether or not your problem has a legal solution. If your problem does have a legal solution, a lawyer advises you as to what your options are in your situation and can represent your interests.

What legal assistance does Indy Legal Aid offer?

Indy Legal Aid lawyers give legal advice or represent individuals in court on any non-criminal, non-fee-generating legal matter.

What is the difference between a criminal offense and a non-criminal problem?

A criminal offense is one which could result in a fine or a jail sentence. This includes burglary, robbery, murder, child molesting, or possession of drugs. Non-criminal problems include divorce, child custody, bankruptcy and landlord/tenant disputes.

How much does Indy Legal Aid charge for its services?

The services of Indy Legal Aid are free to any qualified individual who cannot afford a private lawyer.

“Thank you for everything you have done for me. You are a blessing! I will never forget you, and it may be just a small everyday thing for you, but this was a huge deal for me.”
